- The world of up-and-coming artistic talent Charlotte De Cock, with an introduction by Luc Tuymans
- Painted portraits, music, photography: The Wild Life
- The first book about a budding prodigy

“When I got to know Charlotte De Cock, she was a wild child and she still is.” Luc Tuymans “Sitting still feels a little like dying”

Charlotte De Cock Charlotte de Cock has painted lifesize portraits of thirteen ‘masters’, among which are Luc Tuymans, Jan Decler and dEUS lead singer Tom Barman. She performed at Tomorrowland and made a mural painting of top restaurant The Jane. She refuses to be categorised as an artist. A Journey with Charlotte steps into her world. A world where Jack Kerouac, pumping electro music, and paint, join together to form a vibrant life in which nothing is ever not done.
