- Presents important milestones, including a stable-building extension in Soglio (2009), which was created with rigorous reserve and minimalist power

For over 20 years, Armando Ruinelli has mainly developed his ambitious work in the Val Bregaglia region, revealing unconditional respect for the existing buildings and structures that have developed there. This volume presents important milestones, including a stable-building extension in Soglio (2009), which was created with rigorous reserve and minimalist power.

Text in English, German and Italian.
