TITLE INFORMATION
Tel: +44 (0) 1394 389950
Email: uksales@accartbooks.com
Web: https://www.accartbooks.com/uk

Art & Court of James VI & I

Kate Anderson

Liz Louis

Catriona Murray

Jemma Field

Anna Groundwater

Karen Hearn

ISBN	9781911054702
Publisher	National Galleries of Scotland
Binding	Paperback / softback
Territory	World
Size	265 mm x 245 mm
Pages	160 Pages
Illustrations	105 color
Price	£24.99

- Beautiful illustrations of sumptuous jewellery, artworks and clothing from James's pivotal reign
- The Union of the Crowns of Scotland and England is of particular topical interest in the current political climate
- Illustrates, through art, for the first time the sophistication and glamour of James's court
- Opens up a key chapter in British history in a brand new and revealing way
- Through new scholarship, visually illustrates some of the reasons for the reassessment of James
- Longlisted for the 2026 Berger Prize for art history

James VI & I, the only child of Mary, Queen of Scots, has often been overshadowed by the dramatic lives of his mother and son, Charles I. This book seeks to redress the balance by centering the first monarch to reign over both Scotland and England and uncovering the artistic treasures created during his extraordinary reign.

The cultural riches of James's court are showcased, revealing his diverse roles as ruler, scholar, politician, father and patron of the arts. His court's passion for jewellery and fine clothes is illustrated in the vivid portraits and miniatures by John de Critz and Nicholas Hilliard – just two of many artists and craftspeople who thrived in its artistic and intellectual climate.

Five richly illustrated chapters demonstrate James's impact on early modern Britain, while reconsidering the reputation of a king traditionally presented as preferring hunting and drinking to the duties of daily governance. Packed with exquisite art works and sumptuous objects, this book brings James's court vividly to life.

Kate Anderson is Senior Curator of Portraiture at the National Galleries of Scotland. Liz Louis is Curator of Portraiture at the National Galleries of Scotland. Catriona Murray is Senior Lecturer in Early Modern Visual and Material Cultures at the University of Edinburgh. Jemma Field is Associate Director of Research at the Yale Center for British Art. Anna Groundwater is a cultural historian and Principal Curator of Renaissance and Early Modern History at the National Museum of Scotland. Karen Hearn was previously the Curator of 16th & 17th Century British Art at Tate Britain and is now an Honorary Professor at University College London.

Published 20th May 2025