- 10th anniversary edition of the Austrian Architectural Yearbook
- Features award-winning buildings by Austrian and international architects from 2024 and 2025
- Photos, plans, and concise texts on 165 buildings in an attractive book design
- Detailed appendix providing relevant information on Austrian and international architecture awards

This anniversary edition of Best of Austria once again showcases the creative achievements in contemporary Austrian architecture and building culture, bringing them to the attention of a broad audience. Around 165 buildings by Austrian and international design firms are documented with photos, selected plans, and concise texts by distinguished authors. Profiles of honored individuals and firms and an introductory essay exploring current developments in Austria's architecture and building culture, as well as a detailed index that provides relevant information on the awards, round out the 10th edition of Best of Austria.

Text in English and German.

Architekturzentrum Wien is Austria's museum of architecture and has gained international renown as a public space for exhibiting, discussing, and researching the ways in which architecture and urban development influence and shape our everyday life.
