A new set of high-quality scratch-and-sniff bookmarks from renowned perfumer Mandy Aftel—featuring alluring aromas from the cook's kitchen.

Rich with cultural and emotional associations of every kind, fragrances have the power to transport you to a different time and place—and none more than the scents of the kitchen. Following on the runaway success of her original Biblioscents, Mandy Aftel has created a new set of bookmarks scented with four natural essences to make the mouth water: blood orange, tarragon, pink pepper, and nutmeg. These culinary-themed bookmarks are the perfect way to keep your place in your favourite cookbook, or any book you want to truly savour.

Mandy Aftel, an internationally known artisan perfumer and authority on natural fragrance, is the owner of Aftelier Perfumes and the Aftel Archive of Curious Scents in Berkeley, California. Her other books include The Museum of Scent and Essence and Alchemy: A Natural History of Perfume, which helped sparked the natural perfume renaissance and has been translated into sixteen languages. Aftel's work has been featured in the New York Times, Vogue, Vanity Fair, and numerous other major outlets.
