Since his first visit to the Hamptons in 1985, designer Mark Zeff has had a love affair with the region's wide-open farmland, rugged beaches, and the classic vernacular of barn structures that dot the landscape. His longstanding love affair has come to full fruition with the design and construction of BLACKBARN, a dream home he built for his family near his favourite beach in the Northwest Harbor. Blackbarn is a 256-page intimate look at Zeff's home via a superbly illustrated tour that reveals for the first time how he practices what he has preached for nearly 30 years – redefining what modern and luxury mean today. Not just about design, Blackbarn is about a lifestyle that redefines luxury, where the cornerstone is finding the right location and creating a home that is authentic to its surroundings.

Mark Zeff, founder and president of MARKZEFF approaches each project, from luxury yachts to the development of global brands and revolutionary hospitality ventures, with a holistic design methodology that embodies its natural fusion philosophy. With innovation as its bedrock, Mark Zeff delivers cutting edge design with an eye for elegance and style.
