“One day, long long ago, someone had the idea to build space ships etc. from the Star Wars movies. I was immediately excited by that idea, got all the necessary LEGO® bricks and started building. My passion has not dwindled since.” – Joe Klang Build Your Own Galaxy comes with complete instructions on how to build your favorite spaceship, droid or space station. It only takes a little ambition, imagination and intuition. Simple step-by-step instructions complete with clearly arranged parts lists make it easy to bring your favorite science fiction movies to life.

Joachim Klang, a LEGO (R) expert since his childhood days, is well-known within the LEGO (R) community for his artistic and experimental use of the colourful bricks.
