The Canary Islands are a hotspot for hikers, sunbathers, culture lovers and road trippers. This book shows the paradisiacal islands in all their variety and beauty while offering the best tips for eating, staying and visiting. Author and ultra runner Charles Van Haverbeke traversed each island on foot and came home with a wealth of (photo) material that formed the basis of this book. Each island gets its own chapter, complete with handy maps and infographics. Canary Islands is halfway between travel guide and photo book and immediately makes you dream of a holiday on one (or more) of the islands, near the most popular attractions or just 'off the beaten path'.

Charles Van Haverbeke is the man who helped put Uber (Eats) on the Belgian map, now makes himself useful as VP Operations at the Brussels start-up Cowboy and the initiator of the Mare Nostrum Run.
