

Château Rayas

The Sense of Wine

Edited by Laure Gasparotto

Edited by Jérôme Neutres

Photographs by Ferrante Ferranti

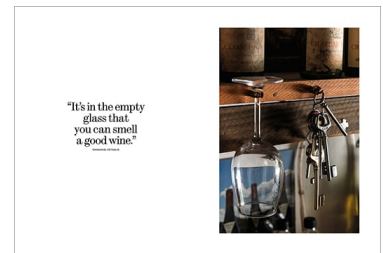

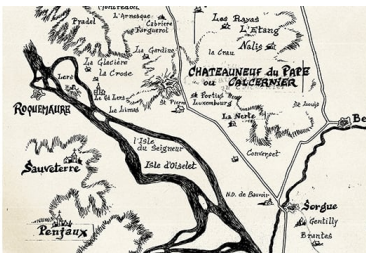

ISBN	9788836648481
Publisher	Silvana
Binding	Hardback
Territory	UK, Ireland, Scandinavia, Iceland, Germany, Greece, Eastern Europe, & Austria. Arab States non-exclusive. Selected territories in Asia, non-exclusive
Size	240 mm x 210 mm
Pages	224 Pages
Illustrations	224 color
Price	£90.00

- The first work devoted to the wines of Château Rayas

This book is exceptional. It is the first work devoted to the wines of Château Rayas.

Rayas is not a wine like any other. It is a myth, a mystery, a monument of rare purity. Those who have had the chance to taste it know that it is much more than just a grape variety. It is a legend, a mystery, a monument of rare purity. It is the song of the earth that is captured here, through the sand and light, the silence of the forests, the time that this wine carries within it.

Page after page, this book opens the doors to a world that rarely shows itself and therefore remains a legend for many.

"It's in the empty glass that you can smell a good wine."