- The carefully curated selection features 38 modern, architecturally designed homes that are integrated beautifully into their coastal setting
- Stunning photography showcases contemporary design, coastal landscapes, and luxurious architectural features including infinity pools and decks that cantilever over the water
- Each residence is designed for modern living in idyllic and secluded coastal locations, where residents can relax with family and friends, surrounded by nature and close to the sea
- Coastal Bliss is handsomely bound with a quarter bind with blue cloth. The inside pages are on uncoated paper, and the colour palette is evocative of the coastal and nautical-inspired interiors
- The introduction is by New Zealand architect Greg Young, founder of Young Architects

Coastal Bliss features 38 houses that showcase the very best in contemporary coastal architecture and design. These gorgeous vacation homes span the globe, from remote beaches in New Zealand to treetops in Costa Rica; from islands in Greece to dunes in South Africa; and from glamorous locations in the United States to some of the world's best kept secrets in Portugal. (Plus so much more!).

Designed by leading architects, these homes range from minimalist pavilions to luxury houses. Each residence is illustrated with stunning full-colour photography and accompanied by insightful text that describes the architect's approach to the design and how they drew inspiration from the context, climate, and clients.

Coastal Bliss is an aspirational volume for architects, designers, design enthusiasts, travellers, and dreamers. It's the perfect gift for those seeking inspiration for their beach house, interested in contemporary architecture and design, or who simply want to let their imagination run wild.

Greg Young established Young Architects in New Zealand in 2003. The award-winning architect has worked on industrial, residential, and commercial projects ranging from small holiday homes to multi-million dollar houses. This work has included a full range of architectural genres including Gothic Revival, Arts and Crafts, and Modernism. Greg has also been involved in prominent civic projects, including the New Zealand Parliament Buildings and the Christchurch Town Hall.
