In the Mad for Geography activity-book series, an apprentice geographer and cartographer guide young readers as they explore the fundamental themes of geography – in this case, FLAGS! But, think beyond countries! Vexillology is the study of history, symbolism and the usage of flags. Flags have always been an exciting discovery for big kids. They can analyse their colours, shapes and symbols; learn about the principles governing flag creation and mistakes to avoid; memorise their meanings and even design their own! Ages: 7 plus
