- The book Siberia, based on the project Siberia by Hendrik Beikirch, gives an overview of all the works created, paintings and 10 murals carried out all over the world

Today, known for its black and white portraits covering entire buildings, Hendrik Beikirch today presents the*Siberia* project, a project in the continuity of Tracing Morocco started in 2014. The intensity of these powerful foreign faces recalls a familiarity that can be experienced anywhere in the world. Beikirch takes these studies of humanity with him on his travels and permeates them as traces of personified life in new contexts. The project is the result of Beikirch's meeting with this distant immensity that is Siberia. From this project was born the book Siberia, which gives an overview of all the works created, paintings, and 10 murals carried out all over the world.

Text in English, French and Russian.
