- This is a welcome addition to Luster's practical and attractive Hidden series, focussing on Brooklyn

This new alternative guidebook is a personal ode to the mélange of cultures called Brooklyn. It takes you to the most fascinating corners of the borough and will help you discover places most tourists won't go. The aim is to inspire you to start exploring Brooklyn's neighbourhoods, which all have a strong sense of local identity. Discover more than 350 places the author would recommend to a friend, in eclectic and enthusing lists such as:

- eateries with a fabulous view
- must-visit galleries
- museums and skateparks
- inspiring bookstores
- the best spots to stare at the Manhattan skyline

Born and raised in Belgium, author Katelijne De Backer left for New York City in 1997, to pursue a career in the contemporary art world. She moved to Brooklyn Heights in 2002 and was immediately smitten with her new neighbourhood. Photography by Gabriel Flores, an internationally recognised commercial and documentary photographer and filmmaker currently residing in Brooklyn, NY.
