- A curated collection of the finest international homes and their dream cars
- An exciting blend of architecture and personal stories
- Impressive photography and surprising insights into stylish architectural spaces
- With inspiration and tips for creating your own dream garage

Here, passion and architecture merge into a total work of art: 45 spectacular international projects show how cars, collections and living spaces are being reimagined and staged. Large-format photography, precise plans and inspiring interviews with collectors and designers offer exclusive insights into a world where the car forms an integral part of the living environment. Whether a one-off piece, curated collection or bespoke solution – every example links design and passion in a fascinating way. Tips and ideas round off the volume, making this the ultimate book for everyone who loves architecture and automobiles – and wants to know where dreams are parked.

Andreas K. Vetter is a Professor of Art and Cultural History at TH OWL in Metmold. With his keen sense for innovative architecture, he has compiled the most exciting international projects. Successful publications with Callwey Verlag already include, among others, Townhouses, The Best Single-Family Houses Made of Concrete, and most recently the award-winning series Best Workspaces.
