Lisa Klein (*1958) circles around her aspiration to the beautiful in a loop consisting of analogue and digital images.

The book presents the groups of works “Körperumkreisungen and “Vorhandene Dinge”. In her interview with herself, the artist examines works that were created for the most part in the past ten years. This fictional dialogue makes reference on the one hand to the works presented, and on the other to her artistic development and her attitude toward art.

The publication also includes a text by the artist’s colleague Anton Herzl, a careful consideration of Lisa Klein’s working method.

Text in English and German.
