In this small format atlas of the world, children will find a different continent on each spread with some of the most famous or curious animals who live there . . . but some are missing.

Don’t worry! You will find the missing animals on the last page of the book where they can be removed and built in 3D. Use the colour coding to find which continent they belong on. Play with them and learn everything about their habitat. The book also includes QR codes for informative animal videos. Ages: 5 plus.

Cristina Banfi, a graduate in natural sciences from the University of Milan, has taught at various schools. For over 20 years, she has been working in scientific communication and teaching through play for children. Ronny Gazzola has worked as a freelancer with several companies. He creates illustrations for adult and children's books, and graphic projects. He has illustrated several titles for White Star.
