

Niina Lehtonen Braun

Let Go Girl

Text by Christine Nippe

ISBN	9783735607898
Publisher	Kerber
Binding	Paperback / softback
Territory	World excluding Germany, Austria, Switzerland, the US & Canada
Size	240 mm x 168 mm
Pages	124 Pages
Illustrations	138 color
Price	£29.00

- Niina Lehtonen Braun's Let Go Girl gives voices to women in their various roles
- Text in English and German

The third in the series of art books by Niina Lehtonen Braun, Mädchen lass los/Let Go Girl, examines the theme of the various roles and tasks of women and the enormous pressure they bring with them. What kinds of expectations do women have of themselves and which ones come from society itself? How do they deal with the fear of failure? Between 2017 and 2021 the artist created more than 500 collages that gave a voice to mothers, daughters, partners, friends, and artists, which remains warm and humorous despite all of the exigencies. The book contains a selection of these works and a companion essay by Dr. Christine Nippe.

Text in English and German.

Lehtonen Braun studied fine arts at the Helsinki Art Academy and École Nationale Supérieure des Beaux-Arts, Paris. She has lived and worked in Berlin since 2000. In addition to collages, her artistic work includes installations and performances. She is a member of the performance group JOKAklubi (FI / DE). Artist books, "Mother Said" ISBN 978-3-86678-846-6 and "These Foolish Things Remind Me of You" ISBN 978-3-7356-0291-6 have been published by Kerber Verlag. Since 1996, she has exhibited numerous artistic works at home and abroad.

