To celebrate the 60 years since the creation of the now legendary 911, this volume tells the story of a brand that has become a myth on four wheels: Porsche. From the dawn of its history to successes in sports and marketing of this car manufacturer, up to the engineering and technology for the future, the book retraces the long history and the most representative and significant models produced by the German company – from the first 356 to the very recent Mission R and 718 Cayman GT4 RS – through detailed descriptions, technical and accurate data sheets & 3D rendering in high definition.

Andrea Rapelli, who has always been passionate about engines, has written about cars for years. He has worked with Cambio and AutoOggi magazines and websites web MotorBox and Motor1, has published books on motorsport and today he is editor of Quattroruote's Prove. Marco De Fabianis Manferto, industrial designer, obtained the Master in Product Design at the European Institute of Design (IED), then specialising in 3D modelling at the Politecnico di Milano.
