

Sebastian Hosu

Ballad for Space Lovers

Edited by Galerie Philipp Anders

Text by Christoph Tannert

Text by Anka Ziefer

ISBN

9783735608444

Publisher

Kerber

Binding

Hardback

Territory

World excluding Germany, Austria, Switzerland, the US & Canada

Size

310 mm x 230 mm

Pages

128 Pages

Illustrations

46 color, 12 b&w

Price

£37.00

- New works by Sebastian Hosu, a graduate from one of the most important artist centres in Germany
- Accompanied an exhibition at the Galerie Philipp Anders, Leipzig from May to June 2022

In his new catalogue Ballad for Space Lovers, the artist Sebastian Hosu (*1988) traces his creative work of the past years since completing his master class studies in Leipzig. The centre of the creative work and life of the Romanian-born artist is the old Leipziger Baumwollspinnerei (cotton-spinning mill), one of the most important artist centres in Germany of our time. Hosu's pictures are distinguished by an expressive characteristic style, as if created in just one single breath. His dynamic, often flesh-coloured forms give rise to the suggestion of bodies and flow into a living natural environment. Whether luminous oil painting or charcoal drawings — Hosu's pictorial works have a strong physical presence and take viewers along with them on a journey through space and time.

Text in English and German.

