

Tales of Two Worlds

Kate McBride

Illustrated by Ashley O'Mara

ISBN	9788896532126
Publisher	Mandragora
Binding	Hardback
Size	230 mm x 230 mm
Pages	293 Pages
Illustrations	126 color, 47 b&w
Price	£21.00

Arnie and Soot are never still for a moment! The adventures of these two cats take place in the streets and squares of Florence. The book is a real 'tour' that introduces Arnie and Soot to people and places and young readers can embark on this adventure along with them. But that's not all: sometimes touring a city can be tiring, but having the right guides makes all the difference! But what about those who don't travel? You don't need to walk around Florence to explore it! The adventures of these resourceful cats spark the imagination, appealing to children who read them at home or listen to them as bedtime stories. But Tales of Two Worlds is not just about words, drawings and photographs. There are also traditional Florentine recipes, connected with the adventures recounted in the book, that offer adults and children a fun opportunity to cook together.

Kate McBride works as a writer and filmmaker and lives between Vancouver, Florence and Biot. She writes for travel and wine clients and works in music and film.