- Twenty one-day walks forming one continuous route from Brussels to Luxembourg
- Flexible walking: perfect for a day trip, a weekend escape or a longer walking holiday - each route starts and ends near a train station
- More than a walking guide: an engaging journey through Belgium's history, landscapes and peculiarities

This beautifully illustrated guide features 20 one-day walks carefully created by Hugh Pope, following a continuous route from Brussels to Luxembourg. The walks are designed to be enjoyed in whatever way suits the reader: as a complete long-distance journey over several weeks, as a three-day walking escape, or simply as individual day hikes throughout the year. Every route starts and ends at locations that are easily accessible by public transport, making the book practical as well as inspiring. But this book goes beyond the walks themselves. As an Englishman who has travelled the world, Hugh Pope also reveals his fascination with Belgium, weaving its history, character and peculiarities into the stories along the way.

Hugh Pope is a British author and former foreign correspondent for The Wall Street Journal. After reporting from more than 30 countries, mainly in the Middle East, he settled in Brussels. An avid walker and curious observer, he now turns his attention to Belgium, exploring its landscapes, history and peculiarities on foot.
