

The Sea A World to Preserve

Valter Fogato

ISBN	9788854418714
Publisher	White Star
Binding	Hardback
Territory	World excluding USA & Canada; India non-exclusive; Italy non-exclusive
Size	165 mm x 165 mm
Pages	400 Pages
Name of series	A World to Preserve
Price	£12.99

- Breath-taking landscapes, inspiring quotes, and infographics about environmental issues that will take readers on a journey through the depths of the sea

The A World to Preserve series brings together breathtaking landscapes, inspiring quotes, and infographics about environmental issues that will take readers on a journey through the depths of the sea.

"For most of history, man has had to fight nature to survive; in this century he is beginning to realise that, in order to survive, he must protect it."
– Jacques-Yves Cousteau

The mesmerising pictures in The Sea combine with powerful quotes about the importance of protecting the world around us. Each chapter begins with an infographic depicting the issues faced by these large bodies of water. The images in this book, from the icy waters of the two poles to the coral reefs in the tropics, testify to why the seas need to be preserved for us and for future generations.

Valter Fogato is an advertiser, graphic designer, illustrator, and author of scientific educational works. He has designed and set up dioramas for various museums and visitor's centres in natural parks, including writing their explanatory panels. He has also created all the dioramas of world environments in Milan's Natural History Museum.

