It may seem strange, but some animals seem completely at home amongst poop and vomit! Others have no problem using their own tongue to clean their ears, and some even shoot snot bombs from their noses! But, it should be remembered that, though many of these behaviours may seem revolting to us, they are actually necessary for the animal's survival. Who is actually the most 'disgusting'? There are plenty vying for the title!

Top-Ten Grossest Animals continues the well-loved Top-Ten series for kids! It leverages kids' innate sense of curiosity and get them excited to learn, starting with the world around them!
