- A must-have for any modern witch
- Themed crafts, rituals, games, and recipes
- Use the seasonal inspirations to practice and improve your best self each day, while keeping an eye on the wheel of time that loops around us each

A beautifully illustrated guide to ancient, nature-based holidays and customs; a book that explains the year through the eyes of a witch – from magical techniques to full experience the wheel of a year and its eight major holidays: Samhain, Yule, Imbolc, Ostara, Beltane, Litha, Lughnasa, Mabon. For each of them, the reader finds insights into their origins as well as tips, spells, crafts and rituals to honour the seasons.

The book also features self-assessments to understand which part of the holiday and year most naturally reflects your being and needs.

Federica Vanini is also known as 'Incanto del Corvo' taken from the name of the page that she has been curating for years and where she shares information on neopagan and folk magic. For her, magic is concrete and practical, it hides in every daily gesture that she shares with her partner in their house immersed in the woods. Erica Brucoli is an Italian designer and illustrator who travels the world in search of inspiration. Nature is her main muse, but her ideas also come from the pages of books, art, travel and mysticism. Through her years of experience in the fashion industry, she has honed her artistic sensibility and developed a unique vision.
