TITLE INFORMATION
Tel: +44 (0) 1394 389950
Email: uksales@accartbooks.com
Web: https://www.accartbooks.com/uk

They'd None of 'em Be Missed

Richard Suart

A. S. H. Smyth

ISBN	9781843680369
Publisher	Pallas Athene
Binding	Paperback / softback
Territory	World
Size	126 mm x 172 mm
Pages	192 Pages
Illustrations	56 color, 45 b&w
Price	£14.99

- Richard Suart's biography of the hilarious, malleable song the Little List, of English National Opera's The Mikado, through its many topical versions, many of them his own

'..the news that Baritone Richard Suart has produced an account of Ko-Ko's Little Lists will be music to your ears. Beginning with a brief history of The Mikado, this hearty collaboration focuses on the way contemporary politics and society are freshly lampooned in each season's book'– Sunday Telegraph

Richard Suart, heir to the great Gilbert and Sullivan singers of the past, has made the role of KoKo, Lord High Executioner, his own. Over the last 20 years his topical version of the Little List song has become a focus of audience expectation and hilarity. In this book, he looks back over the Lists that have raised such laughter at the Coliseum and at the history of this immensely malleable song, taking in previous performers such as George Grossmith, Martyn Green, Groucho Marx, Frankie Howerd and Eric Idle – not to mention poets as varied as John Hollander and Tim Rice. Illustrated with 56 colour and 45 black & white illustrations, many never previously reproduced, this is a delightful biography of one of the most entertaining songs in the English language.

Richard Suart is a baritone who began his operatic career with the English Music Theatre Company and Opera Factory.A. S. H. Smyth is a freelance foreign affairs journalist.

Published 6th Apr 2023