"This is the kind of book that can speak to you no matter your genre of preference. If you like animals and wildlife, it's an obvious choice, but those who like portraiture, fashion, documentary and fine art will also find plenty to enjoy. Highly recommended." — Amateur

Photographer

For many people, horses are among the most fascinating creatures on earth. Their grace, strength and beauty are reflected in their appearance. Capturing this elegance and grace requires a special feeling for these sensitive creatures, which Drew Doggett, one of the world's best-known horse photographers, clearly possesses. Now, for the first time, the award-winning artist's most beautiful photographs can be admired in the top-class coffee table book Untamed Spirits: Horses from Around the World

The impressive portfolio includes photos of wild horses in the Camargue, Sable Island and Iceland. Doggett, who is regarded by connoisseurs as one of the most outstanding horse photographers, not only sets himself apart from other published horse books with his captivating photographs of horses in the wild. Peacefully aesthetic depictions of top-class breeding animals, dressage, hunting and polo horses also adorn the richly illustrated book.

Drew Doggett takes his readers by the hand and guides them through the fascinating and exciting world of horses. His fashion-inspired lens opens up the viewer to a whole new experience of fine animal photography from an artistic perspective.

Drew Doggett is an award-winning photographer and director whose work tells the extraordinary stories of diverse cultures, communities, and wildlife through a fashion-inspired lens. His photographic work can be found in public collections globally as the Smithsonian African Art Museum (DC) and has been featured in many publications such as Conde Nast Traveler, Architectural Digest, Forbes, and The Daily Mail. He currently serves as an ambassador for Re:wild, a conservation organisation founded by Leonardo DiCaprio and Global Wildlife Conservation.
