San Francisco: the home of hills and valleys, of dreamers and trailblazers, of hippies and hipsters. From the gold rush to the Golden Gate, the City by the Bay has always basked in the glow of its colorful and celebrated history and world-renowned landmarks. But for those who live and love on this compact, seven-mile by seven-mile metropolis, San Francisco is a treasure trove of unusual neighborhood sights and places that sparkle with the allure of hidden pleasures and local lore. Discover a stairway that transports you from the depths of the ocean to the heights of outer space; take a spin class amidst the grand elegance of a repurposed 1920s movie palace; or slide down a century-old sundial that sits at the center of what was once California's first racetrack for cars. This is the real San Francisco. Strung together, the 111 experiences gathered here tell the B-side story of the city once romantically known as the Paris of the West.

Floriana Peterson is an interior designer who arrived in San Francisco on a one-way ticket in 1986. A Christmas present became a new life. She takes her inspiration from the city's eclectic style, its joie de vivre, its never ending capacity to reinvent itself, and its many high-minded artists. Floriana is the author of 111 Places in Silicon Valley That You Must Not Miss and 111 Places in Napa & Sonoma That You Must Not Miss. Steve Werney grew up in the small town of Clovis, in California's Central Valley, and has called San Francisco home since 1992. A contractor by trade, when he is not building homes, you'll find him "constructing" photographs through the lens of his camera.

4. Alhambra Theater
Interior theater

In the 1930s, audience moviegoers going up to other areas of the city to see the Alhambra Theater, the most famous of Hollywood's The Alhambra Theater on 30th Street, reopened after a long absence. The theater's interior was designed by the famous architect, Frank Lloyd Wright, and it is the only example. Designed by Frank Lloyd Wright in 1926, the Alhambra Theater was the first movie theater in the United States to be built in the Prairie School style. The Golden Gate Bridge is reflected in the lights over the entrance. The interior of the theater is a large, open space with a high ceiling and a balcony. The walls are decorated with colorful murals and the floor is made of wood. The theater is a great example of early 20th-century architecture and is a must-see for anyone interested in the history of movie theaters.

But the theater is not the only old theater in San Francisco. There are many more, such as the Fox Theater, the Castro Theater, and the Golden Gate Theater.
