- This is part of a growing series of opinionated guides which offer no-nonsense insider's advice on what to do and see in cities around the world

The original metropolis, the city of cities: New York is mythic in stature and impossible to pin down. The planet's most surreal urban experiment is a dizzying feast of iridescent skyscrapers, iconic landmarks and heavyweight cultural institutions – it's irresistible, even if all you can afford is a bagel and a walk through Central Park. Luckily, we've got the inside scoop on the island's most treasured local delis, historic bookshops, memorable bars and beloved neighborhoods – Brooklyn, Bronx, Queens and Staten / From the Battery to the top of Manhattan.

Devra Ferst is a food and travel writer who has called New York City home for over 20 years. Her work has appeared in the*New York Times, Vogue, Bon Appetit* and Eater. She is also the co- author of The Jewish Holiday Table: A World of Recipes, Traditions & Stories to Celebrate All Year Long. You can often find her racing around New York on her green bicycle, Olive.
