- Louis I. Kahn's 12 most recognized houses are included in this issue, from his first the Oser House in 1940, to the last built work in his lifetime the Korman House in 1973
- Each project has been newly photographed and illustrates the current state of the homes
- This edition is notable for the number of rare interior views that show furnishings and layout inside the residences. Also included are a series of drawings recently found in the basement of the Fisher House that document the design process through 5 different schemes to the final design Designing houses was a constant in the career of Louis I. Kahn. Even now, his houses are still loved and lived in. We had the opportunity to photograph 12 residences by Kahn and this issue illustrates the current state of these homes. From his first house designed before World War II, to the house completed as the last work during his lifetime, these projects are presented through images published for the first time and original drawings. Also included are a series of drawings that were recently found in the basement of the Fisher House that document the design process over 5 different schemes to the final design. A transcription of a conversation with Mrs. Fisher describes his views on housing and architecture. This edition is notable for the number of rare interior views that show furnishings and inside of the homes. Text in English and Japanese.

a+u - Architecture and Urbanism - is a monthly architectural magazine established in 1971 that highlights the work and activities of top contemporary architects from around the world. a+u features architecture and a broad range of other new design sources in a well-presented format.
