Founded in 1976 by Bob Gysin, BGP is now run collectively by four partners. The architecture of the Zurich practice is rooted in radical simplicity, combining geometric forms such as squares and rectangles with a high degree of functional versatility. Sustainability and an innovative spirit shape every process and project. BGP's projects in new construction and renovation range from housing, research, teaching and school buildings and care centers to complex planning projects such as the collaborative development of the Wankdorfcity 3 site.

Text in English and German.
