Creative Companions is a celebration of the intimate bond between creativity and companionship.

In this refined coffee table book, Beta-Plus Publishing presents one hundred and three portraits of designers, architects, interior studios, and creative minds alongside their most faithful muses—the dogs and cats who quietly shape their daily lives with unmistakable tenderness and devotion. Each double-page feature pairs a personal studio introduction with a candid, Proustian-style exchange, where affection, humor, and gratitude surface as naturally as creative insight. Set within beautifully crafted interiors and workspaces, the book moves beyond aesthetics to reveal how deeply these animals shape daily rhythms, emotional balance, and imagination.

Creative Companions offers a rare, tender glimpse into the emotional lives behind creative excellence, where inspiration often arrives on four paws. This is a very special Beta-Plus book infused with love felt in every portrait, every answer, and every quiet glance between creative and companion.
