When it comes to Iceland, it quickly becomes clear that contrast rules! The island is a single volcano, but it is not fully active. The largest glacier in Europe is also located here. Life pulsates in the capital Reykjavík, while the rest of the population is spread across the island. Hot and cold, rough and gentle, lively and lonely – all at once.

Follow Stefan Bogner on this road trip between ice and lava and discover the rough charm of Iceland!

Text in English and German.
