- Stunning photographs of fantastic roads and a fresh look at the island and its people
- With maps and recommendations for routes and hotels

Everybody has their own ideas about the most popular mediterranean holiday island. Whether you dream of sunbathing at a scenic bay, or of joining a group of cyclists to cycle up mountains, or of enjoying the winding mountain roads in an open-top sportscar, Mallorca has all of that and more. Unfortunately, most people know about the island's advantages so you will never be alone. Never? Volume 10 of the successful Curves series conveys exactly that: the experience of being alone. Beaches without sunburned tourists, roads without coaches, cyclists, or hired cars, photographed by Stefan Bogner with his unique touch. How he does it remains a secret. What we know for sure is that he captures highlight after highlight: Palma de Mallorca, Port d'Andratx, Pollença, Can Picafort, Cap de Formentor, Lean back, fasten your seatbelt, browse - and enjoy! Text in English and German.
