Waterlily Pond speaks to those looking to make a truly unique aesthetic statement. Fusing Eastern and Western design principles, the San Francisco based floral design company creates innovative customized floral art. Waterlily Pond has become recognized for their outstanding artistry, and for crafting exceptional, large-scale works commissioned by the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art and the deYoung Museum. And the service doesn't end with flowers. Waterlily Pond offers complete event design for weddings and corporate and social events. Studio owner and lead designer Natasha Lisitsa is known for using bold flowers in adventurous color combinations and a variety of interesting natural materials. Natasha has a reputation for seeking out the freshest and most exceptional flowers and materials, from exotic orchids to French silk ribbons. Her work has been described as modern, free-spirited, exotic, adventurous, organic, nature-inspired and sexy. A unique personality, captured in a multifaceted book.
