

Gold, Silver & Brass

Jewellery of the Batak in Sumatra, Indonesia

Achim Sibeth

ISBN	9788874396269
Publisher	Five Continents Editions
Binding	Hardback
Territory	USA & Canada
Size	10.67 in x 12.17 in
Pages	192 Pages
Illustrations	215 color
Price	$55.00

- The nearly 300 precious works shown here are artifacts of a once-flourishing jewelry tradition

The first book to examine the rich jewelry traditions of the Batak people in Indonesia is a gorgeous tribute to a vanishing way of life. Batak jewelry is characterized by a wide variety of materials and forms, and has many functions: Jewels can be status symbols, badges of rank, attributes of membership of a certain age group, amulets and talismans, or simply ornaments. Men, women, small children, and even babies were once adorned with gold, silver, brass, bronze, or the gold-and-copper alloy known as suasa. Today, the Batak wear traditional jewelry only for celebrations like weddings, and these stunning works are rapidly disappearing, being melted down or sold.

Achim Sibeth is a former curator of the Southeast Asian collection at the Museum of World Cultures in Frankfurt am Main, Germany. Since April 2010, he has been the curator and chief editor of the Mandala Foundation in Singapore.