- 10% different, 100% special: how to turn your difference into your greatest strength 'A must-read for anyone who combines a neurodivergent brain with good intelligence.' – Prof. dr. Theo Compennolle, neuropsychiatrist and author of Brain Chains and How to Unchain your Brain
- 'Our economy needs creativity and innovation in order to stand out. This book shows that neurodivergent people can make all the difference. A book brimming with positivity!' – Vivian Roks, Innovation Lead Randstad Group
- 'What an absolute gem of a book! Lots of people will recognize themselves, family members or colleagues. At least, that was the case for me. The authors chose to focus on talents rather than potential pitfalls, an eye-opener for employers keen to promote inclusion.' – Elke Jeurissen, chair of VDAB, Flanders' public employment service.
- 'In our industry, creativity is often enabled by neurodivergent minds. This book helps us create a more neurodiverse and neuro-inclusive workplace for them.' – Laura Maness, Global CEO of Grey Global Group

You can't sit still. You don't like unannounced visitors. You always triple-check if the lights are out. But you also see details that no-one else notices. You're always coming up with surprising solutions. You can focus intensely for hours at a stretch. Usually without realising it, many people lie somewhere on the spectrum of a neurodivergent condition. We often tend to focus on the many downsides of neurodivergent conditions such as AD(H)D, ASD, dyslexia and OCD. This book takes a different approach by looking in depth at the special talents that go hand in hand with these conditions. Whether you already have a diagnosis or simply feel you're somewhere on the neuroatypical spectrum, one thing is certain: once you've identified your unique talents, you'll be able to make more focused choices in your life and work. You'll discover which jobs best showcase your talents, which colleagues complement your personality, and which environments and corporate cultures are right for you.

Peter Ampe is an internationally acclaimed advertising creative and columnist whose writing credits include the UK-based creativity magazine Little Black Book. He has distinct traits of ASD and ADHD. This book was co-written with Emily Rammant. Emily is a business engineer, business coach and co-founder of the coaching firm YIN United. With her mild form of ADHD and slight traits of OCD, and a hefty dose of emotional intelligence, she supports people and businesses struggling with issues of identity, leadership and corporate culture.
