When you think of Ibiza, you think of sun, sea, sand, and the Mediterranean way of life. But that's not all: you think of gorgeous design, funky interiors, scrumptious food and breathtaking nature. With that in mind, it's time for an ode to good taste,La Pura Vida. This magnificent book will bring the summer vibe into your home with the most beautiful interiors, imposing architecture and pictures that will have you imagining you are standing amidst the azure bays yourself. Two hundred and forty pages filled with joy and good taste, interiors, architecture, and scenery.

The worlds of fashion and beauty have no secrets for Anne Poelmans. She was head stylist for Elle Belgium for 8 years, managed the magazine's website for 3 years and is currently a contributor to Vogue. In between she supports Belgian fashion startups and gives workshops on social media to shops and brands. She grew up in Ibiza, explaining the special bond she has with the island and therefore a condition to marry her husband: this had to happen on this magical island.
