- Twenty beautiful homes chosen by the editors of the European style guide Feeling Wonen (Feeling Living), a magazine that reports on current trends in design, interiors, and gardens
- Includes the houses of Patricia Morosa and Rosanna Orlandi in Milan, Moustache in Paris and Studio Job in Amsterdam

The city is not just a place where creative talents meet and work, it is also a place where they live. Feeling Living magazine has selected 20 of the most fascinating and beautiful city abodes of people who spend their lives pushing the envelope of innovation and creativity. Scattered around major European cities, these lofts, houses, industrial-style spaces, and Hausmann-style apartments are often surprising, and always interesting. This book invites you into their homes, and shares with you their vision of city life. Text in English, French and Dutch.

Belgium-based Feeling Wonen (Feeling Living) magazine is an influential on-trend style guide to beautiful interiors, cutting edge architecture, and innovative designers.
