- One of the most important collections of contemporary auteur jewelry in Europe
- Some 90 representative pieces and more than 200 additional works show Susanne Czinczel's sure-fire instinct for collecting
- Dancers from the Bavarian Junior Ballet in Munich interpreting and celebrating the jewelry

With some 90 outstanding representative pieces of contemporary auteur jewelry, including by Giampaolo Babetto, Otto Künzli, Daniel Kruger, Lisa Walker, Peter Chang, Kyoko Fukuchi, Mia Maljojoki and Svenja John as well as more than 200 additional fascinating works, Susanne Czinczel's collection is regarded as one of the most important in Europe. Rather than following the rules, Czinczel follows a sure-fire instinct, grounded in an early interest in art and design; her selections are particularly informed by the array of pieces on display at the annual Schmuck fair in Munich. Surprising contrasts are brought together: classic and current, the prominent and the unusual, with more recent, provocative works especially capturing the collector's heart. The book also features dancers from the Bavarian Junior Ballet in Munich, who interpret the jewelry and celebrate the pieces through their imaginative and quirky performance.

Text in English and German.
