- Inspirational guide to unforgettable road trips through Europe
- Mix of beautiful photography, travel stories, practical travel tips & maps
- Road trips in Europe made accessible for a wide audience
- Fits within the trend of wanting to fly less

Over the past 15 years, Sabine de Milliano has driven through all the countries of Europe, covering a distance of over 150,000 km. As a photographer she is constantly in search of the most beautiful views and spectacular roads, interspersed with visits to cozy villages and lively cities. Sabine shares her favorite road trips in Europe and offers lots of inspiration to anyone who wants to make an unforgettable journey by car. With colorful photography, clear maps and plenty of tips for hikes and trips, she helps you design your own road trip through the old continent. From a surprisingly spectacular week in the Benelux to a month through the Balkans: after reading this book you will want nothing more than to pack your bags and get in the car!

Sabine de Milliano is a creative engineer in the world of geographic data. From maps to satellite images and panoramic photographs: her company Knalblauw develops user-interfaces and visualizations to make these data accessible. Her technical knowledge of image editing and love for photography have resulted in the skill to best capture the soul of a place in every situation. She previously published Surprising Europe, ISBN 9789089898227 (2020).
