The Mediterranean coast of France witnessed the rise and development of modern art over a century, from Cézanne in the 1860s to Matisse, Picasso and Klein in the 1950s and 1960s. These artists and the many more featured here discovered an inexhaustible source of inspiration in this storied region, whose glittering, languid sea stretches out towards the far horizon beneath brilliant azure skies. Indelibly associated with the classical past, this magical land of eternal spring and spiritual renewal came to signify a state of mind, and avant-garde artists sought to convey the vitality and élan it inspired in them through new paradigms of modernist invention.

Artists and photographers featured: Paul Cézanne, Pierre-Auguste Renoir, Berthe Morisot, Claude Monet, Paul Signac, Henri-Edmond Cross (cover image), Henri Matisse, Marc Chagall, André Derain, Georges Braque, Pierre Bonnard, Raoul Dufy, Pablo Picasso, Nicolas de Staël, Yves Klein, Max Beckmann, Beauford Delaney, John Duncan Fergusson, Chaïm Soutine, Man Ray, Kees Van Dongen, Charles Camoin, Julie Manet,Théo van Rysselberghe, William H. Johnson, Léopold Survage, Maximilien Luce, Francis Picabia, Aristide Maillo, Robert Capa, Alexander Archipenko, Stéphen Liégear; Pierre Comba, Roger Broder, Dudley Hardy; E. Paul Champsei, Jean Lucchesi, Roch, Roland Hugo, Starr, Dubois, Villa Bischoffsheim, Henri Harpignies, Charles Deliu. Guy de Maupassan, Colette, Helen Wolff, Jacques-Henri Lartigue, Jean Gillett, Francesco Canedi, Charles Delius, Roland Penrose, Auguste and Louis Lumière, Jean Vigo, Willy Rizzo, Prince Alexander Schervashidze, Coco Chanel, and Sasha.
