- First monograph from the award-winning New York-based architectural firm
- Foreword by the Pulitzer Prize-winning architectural critic Paul Goldberger

Skolnick Architecture + Design Partnership: Public/Private presents the first monograph from the award-winning New York-based architectural firm. Covering over 40 years of work, the book – presented in a unique double-sided, two-cover format – exhibits projects in both the public and private sectors. Included in the public section is a sprawling center for entrepreneurial education, a science center built in an old turbine hall, a sky-lit synagogue, two colorful and bright public libraries, and a children's museum inspired by Leonardo da Vinci. The private side features a serenely spatial six-story townhouse, a sublimely linear beach house, a residence and matching studios for two painters, and luxurious twin villas in Anguilla. With text by principal architect Lee Skolnick, and a foreword by Pulitzer Prize-winning architectural critic Paul Goldberger; each chapter provides valuable insight into the extensive planning and highly intellectual process that goes into each project. Skolnick Architecture + Design Partnership: Public/Private celebrates the accomplishments of a firm still operating at the top of their game.

SKOLNICK Architecture + Design Partnership is an award-winning, integrated design firm specializing in architecture, exhibit design, interpretation, master planning, and graphic design. Since 1980, the New York City-based studio has provided these services in the planning and design of museums, visitor centers, corporate offices, residences, and educational institutions.
They engage in an intensely collaborative process with their clients and professional partners to ensure a sensitive, holistic approach to all of our work. By initiating each project through a thorough exploration of the beliefs and visions of each client, they unearth the 'story worth telling', which becomes the guiding principle for every aspect of the design.

Over the years, they have helped hundreds of clients achieve their goals and realize creative solutions that are a true embodiment of their unique stories.
