- A unique assemblage of projects from all over Europe
- Of value to the garden historian, architect, and landscape architect

This book presents the work of more than fifty European landscape architects and designers from nine countries. The subject is urban parks built within the last 20 years. Organized as a landscape abcedary (A-Z), the book covers a wide range of parks from Aquifiers, to Harbors, from large city parks to small town parks. It also includes a series of essays by notable landscape theorists such as Dorothee Imbert and Marc Trieb.
