- Inspiring photographs and advice from color experts on creating amazing color-savvy interiors that you would never have tried on your own

This color bomb of a book is filled with inspiring photographs and practical tips that will help you integrate color into your home decor. It includes expert information about the influence of color on mood and the best combinations for interiors along the entire color spectrum. The examples range from entire rooms to small details, giving everyone a way to make even a small change with big results. Designers/contributors featured in the book include: Tricia Guild (Designer's Guild); Hella Jongerius, Vitra; 2LG, London; Hilde Francq; Joa Studholme, Farrow & Ball; Cristina Celestino; India Mahdavi; Karen Haller, colour psychologist; Stefan Scholten; Anki Wijnen (blogger); TC Plus – architects; Dries Otten; Sara Garanty.

In addition to being a designer, Irene Schampaert is also a journalist and has an eye for photography with that little bit more. On her blog, Puur Confituur, she shares her discoveries in the field of photography and design. Iris De Feijter is a lifestyle journalist specializing in interior design, contemporary art and architecture. She writes for, among others, the Belgian newspaper and magazines De Morgen, Knack Weekend and SABATO.
