This beautiful book offers a rare insight into the inspirational approach of renowned landscape designer, Randle Siddeley (The Lord Kenilworth) and the magnificent gardens he has created for high-profile clients across the globe. Little is ever published on how raw landscapes can be before a designer has made their mark, and this enthralling book shares decades of knowledge, the challenges and ultimately, some of the most memorable gardens Randle has created. It is a masterclass in exemplary design. Contents: Introduction; Designing Your Garden; 1. Homage to Mont Blanc; 2. Earth, Wind & Water; 3. Restoring Nature's Balance; 4. Contemporary Chic; 5. A Floating Fantasia; 6. Thinking Outside the Box; 7. An Innovative Solution; 8. An Urban Retreat; 9. An Ugly Duckling; 10. A New Lease of Life; 11. A Country Garden Revival; 12. A Stairway to the Stars; 13. The Green Room; 14. A Slumbering Paradise; 15. A Garden of Discovery; 16. A Sophisticated Sanctuary; 17. Serenity in the City; 18. Rooms with a View; Discovery Bay A; Discovery Bay B.

Randle Siddeley is a talented British landscape designer with an international reputation for creating inspirational landscapes. Randle Siddeley founded his landscaping business in London in 1975. Today he has two companies: RANDLE SIDDELEY ASSOCIATES (RSA), the design company; and SIDDELEY LANDSCAPE DESIGN (SLD), which is the design-and-build and project management arm of the business. Both companies are internationally recognized firms of landscape architects and designers, acknowledged as eminent in their field. Randle, who also holds the title The Lord Kenilworth, lives in London with his wife and two sons.
