TITLE INFORMATION
Tel: +1 212 645 1111
Email: ussales@accartbooks.com
Web: https://www.accartbooks.com/us

The National Holocaust Museum and the Hollandsche Schouwburg

Observe, reflect, act

Edited by Annemiek Gringold

Edited by Asjer Waterman

ISBN	9789462625495
Publisher	Waanders Publishers
Binding	Hardback
Territory	USA & Canada
Size	9.45 in x 11.02 in
Pages	160 Pages
Illustrations	100 color
Price	$45.00

- A book supporting the opening of the National Holocaust Museum, Amsterdam

The National Holocaust Museum tells the story of the Nazi persecution and murder of the Jews of the Netherlands. Before the Second World War, Jews and non-Jews lived side by side. They had the same rights. But during the war, the Nazis and their collaborators killed around six million Jews in Europe. That was the Holocaust or Shoah. This is the first and only museum to relate the history of the persecution of the Jews of the entire Netherlands. Including the day-to-day life of Jews on the eve of the Second World War, the liberation as Jews experienced it, and how the Holocaust has been treated in our national culture of remembrance: all this is examined in the museum and this book.

Text in English and Dutch.

Published 29th Jun 2024