

The Vaikunta Perumal Temple at Kanchipuram

D. Dennis Hudson

ISBN	9781935677208
Publisher	Mapin Publishing
Binding	Hardback
Territory	USA & Canada
Size	5.61 in x 8.75 in
Pages	424 Pages
Price	$18.00

- Accessible to general reader, derived from the original The Body of God
- Sculptures are thoroughly discussed and accompanied with related stories

Dr D Dennis Hudson's path-breaking book presents his extraordinary interpretation of the Vaikunta Perumal Temple in Kanchipuram as a three-dimensional mandala. His insight, based on Tirumangai Alvar's poetry and a close study of the Bhagavata Purana, illuminates layers of meaning embodied in the architecture and sculpture of his temple. This volume is a 'summary interpretation' for the general reader, of a larger academic work entitled The Body of God, published in the US. It is the inspired response of a scholar who has been passionately involved with his subject for several decades. Contents:

The Emperor, the Bhagavata Tradition and the Temple The Bottom Floor Sanctum and its Sculpted Programme The middle Floor Sanctum: The Sculpted Programme of the Northern Path Northern Panels of the Northern Path The Middle Floor Sanctum and its Southern Sequence The Panels of the Southern Sequence The Western Side of the Vimana Mandala Vimana Panels on the Northern Side Vimana Panels on the Eastern Side Vimana Panels on the Southern Side

Accessible to general reader, derived from the original The Body of God

Sculptures are thoroughly discussed and accompanied with related stories

Dr D Dennis Hudson's path-breaking book presents his extraordinary interpretation of the Vaikunta Perumal Temple in Kanchipuram as a three-dimensional mandala. His insight, based on Tirumangai Alvar's poetry and a close study of the Bhagavata Purana, illuminates layers of meaning embodied in the architecture and sculpture of his temple. This volume is a 'summary interpretation' for the general reader, of a larger academic work entitled The Body of God, published in the US. It is the inspired response of a scholar who has been passionately involved with his subject for several decades.

D. Dennis Hudson (1938-2006) was Emeritus Professor of World Religions at Smith College and one of the foremost American scholars of the religions of India. He spent a lifetime in the study of Hinduism, particularly the Bhagavata tradition.

Published 13th Feb 2012