- Ideal for those who are busy, but want to eat healthy and delicious meals

During her studies, Julie Van den Kerchove completely changed her eating habits and has only used natural ingredients since. In doing so, she managed to put a stop to her health problems. In her second book, she again cooks delicious meals that don't contain any gluten, dairy or meat. In addition, she only uses natural sugars. She does that in the most practical way possible, which makes this book a great fit for those who want to cook healthy in less than 30 minutes.
