

What I've Learned in 86 1/2 Years

Photographs by Martin Usborne

Text by Joseph Markovitch

ISBN	9781910566176
Publisher	Hoxton Mini Press
Binding	Hardback
Territory	USA & Canada
Size	5.50 in x 8.08 in
Pages	96 Pages
Price	$16.95

- An old man's humorous and touching account of life told through stunning photographs and hilarious quotes

This is the story of Joseph Markovitch, a vulnerable old man with a great sense of humor who lived in London his entire life. Joe loves Nicolas Cage films, has five sugars in his tea, and he has quite bad catarrh. Dealing with quintessential subject matter such as childhood, art, work, relationships and religion in a playful but touching way, Joseph provides thought-provoking commentary on the state of the modern world.

- An old man's humorous and touching account of life told through stunning photographs and hilarious quotes

This is the story of Joseph Markovitch, a vulnerable old man with a great sense of humor who lived in London his entire life. Joe loves Nicolas Cage films, has five sugars in his tea, and he has quite bad catarrh. Dealing with quintessential subject matter such as childhood, art, work, relationships and religion in a playful but touching way, Joseph provides thought-provoking commentary on the state of the modern world.

Martin Usborne is an award-winning photographer and writer who lives and works in London. He takes portraits, sometimes of people, often of animals and has had his work exhibited in galleries and museums around the world. He has published 5 books.